PETER A. CAUDLE

Cheryl Kitt -

Good day! greetings. I am writing you in response to the proposed ing of the ban (for funds) for chimeric research. The request for p onse is online but I thought "Cheryl might like a letter!" A oring the NIH website, I chose to write you and Dr. Temple-O'Con you two are listed as "Senior Scientific Advisors." I have a wi 1 1/2 year old daughter, and a great job as a physical therapis the beautiful state of Oregon. My wife is also 10 weeks pregnan pregnancy is likely a contributing factor to ~~the proposed~~ my first l objection to the proposed research. Please pass my letter along to ropriate parties.

My objections are as follows:

The manipulation, mushing, or coercion of one human by another is wrong. embryo is a person (as we were all embryos at one time!) and its manipul proposed desensitizes us to the truth of human dignity, freedom, & auto

The introduction of human cells into an animal embryo is a further perve human dignity. Researchers are going to remove/steal the human person m cells (destroy the life) and place those cells into an animal embry en the NIH website asking for public response hints at how cruel & iliating the proposed process truly is: "b. human cells are introduced t-gastrulation non-human mammals (excluding rodents)"... excluding lents?! As if the public is to praise the research once we find an man counterparts, harvested, won't be put in a rat embryo - how liculous.

ease let us not be the ones to further advance the devaluation of hu
. How can we respond to social injustices such as sex trafficky, racis ery, and social inequality when we allow ourselves the dismantling uman person (and mixing it with an animal) - clearly demonstrating full con anipulation of a human life.

hope my letter finds you well, please call me anytime to discuss further my best to you & your colleagues at the NIH.
