Dear Sir:

Please, I am begging you not to lift the moratorium on funding research involving injecting human embryonic stem cells into animal embryos.

Creating part-human and part-animal organisms is highly unethical. It's madness and it's immoral, and has nothing to do with health. It certainly is not how our taxpayers dollars should be spent. Please sir, defend the dignity of human beings and stop this madness.

Thank you. God bless you and your loved ones.

Sincerely

A Trellis
