

I want to encourage the continuation of the ban to prevent the creation of chimeras. Watch the number of promotions for spaying and neutering of animals. Read the number of adds for sale of surplus animals. Do we really need to start creating them? Look at the difficulties we have in agreeing on how to treat human life at the beginning and end stages. Shall we now add another dimension to that confusion. Human life is sacred- all human life. Let us focus on a way to deal with human life with respect. Kathryn Brever
