

National Institute of Health;

I strongly object to the use of our tax dollars for research on human animal chimeras.

The need for a cure on so many diseases plaguing our country and the world should have your immediate and constant attention and funding.

Kate Oddo

Paso Robles, California