Dear Sir:

I'm writing to voice my strong objection to a proposal to do away with the moratorium on the research using part human and part animal stem cells. This is insane!! This type of research was a trademark of the Nazi regime in Germany that was widely denounced by this and other countries. It is hard for me to fathom that the NIH would propose such an unethical research path. Please, please do not lift the moratorium. There have to be other areas of research that need funding and are ethical.

Sincerely,
Richard Palaschak
