

I, an American citizen, do not wish to have my tax dollars fund human/animal embryo research.

These experiments are unethical and perverse. If such creatures were developed would they be considered human or animal? Would they be held responsible for their actions or have to answer to the law?

What kind of health issues could such creatures have?

No funding should be given to such research. It goes against creation and its Creator.

Sincerely
U.S. Citizen